

Bio: Joe Hines

Joe's musical career has taken him across the southwest starting in Hobbs, New Mexico where he played lead trumpet for the New Mexico Junior College Jazz Band in the early 80s all the way to central Texas where he is currently playing in Band of the Hills, a local community band and, of course, the Armadillo Swing Band.

Along the way Joe made stops with a number of musical organizations.

College of the Southwest Performing Arts

Hines 57 Variety Orchestra

Southwest New Mexico Symphony Orchestra

Midland College of Jazz

Mountain View Community College

Tarrant County Community College

Brookhaven Community College

Arlington German Band

He has finally put down roots in the Killeen area where he played with the Swing Time Big Band from 2009 - 2015 and most recently with the Armadillo Swing Band.